DAVID PEARSON
CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Dear Mikio,

The New Year is well upon us, and it is a pleasure for me to reach out to our friends as I have done in previous years. Although the winter rains were light this year, our reservoir is nearly full and the vines have all been pruned. Bud break is upon us, and the growing year has just begun. The 2006 Opus One has found its way to the barrels in the Grand Chai, and wonderful aromas of new wine and oak are wafting through the winery. While it is a quiet time now in the vineyards and in the cellar, the year ahead promises to be full and exciting.

I am very happy to tell you that we have begun work to expand and enhance our offerings to our visitors. We want to be certain that every visit to Opus One – whether it's the first or one of many – is memorable and of the highest caliber. We have implemented several important changes:

- All tours and tastings are by appointment only. Previously the Partners' Room was open for walk-in tastings. Going forward we will ask all our visitors to make a reservation for tastings as well as tours. This will allow us to provide increased and improved personal focus to every guest.
- We will be doing a little construction work on the Partners' Room this coming spring to enlarge the space. This will give you more room to relax and enjoy your visit.
- For those of you who have already been on the winery tour, we will be offering a new and special 'Vineyard Tour and Tasting'. This 75-minute tour will focus entirely on the seasons of the vine and the sustainable farming practices applied at Opus One. Be sure to ask about it when you call the winery.
- For the most special occasions, we are offering a "Heritage Dinner" with our winemaker, Michael Silacci. The evening will include some of the rarest wines from our cellar.

We are certain that you will appreciate these changes. If you would like to schedule a visit, please call Nancy Vandegrift at (707) 948-2401. Or, feel free to give me a call directly.

Also, I can't resist letting you know that we look forward to hosting a special vintage release event this year on September 22nd. Plans are being put in place now, and we will give you the details as they are finalized.

Let me close by saying how much we appreciate your support and patronage. Our greatest pleasures are the personal relationships that are created through Opus One. We look forward to seeing you at the winery.

Best regards,

ROBERT MONDAVI · BARON PHILIPPE DE ROTHSCHILD
